Awarded Annulment

Mrs. Virginia Cameron Beaverbrook, Wardman Park hotel, was awarded an interlocutory decreeyesterday by Chief Justice McCoy in equity court, annulling her marriage of June 17, 1925, to Cornelius Beaverbrook, alleged pseudo English nobleman with several allases.

The decree is based on the fact that Beaverbrook, under the name of Arthur Brooks, married Esther Wexler, of Chicago, Ill., on November 11, 1924, and was alleged to be attill the husband of this woman when he married the plaintiff. The first wife has since divorced him. The decree granted yesterday by the chief engineer's office has not abandoned its plan and a second first wife has since divorced him. The decree granted yesterday by the chief justice allows the plaintiff to resume her maiden name of Virginia Cameron Beavers and the drives leading thereto. District Heads, Park Commission and Engineer's Office Hold Different Views.

DIVIDED ON BOULEVARD

A difference of opinion has developed in conferences between officials of the District, the National Capital park commission and the Department over development of the water front in the Southwest section of the city. District officials favor widening District officials favor widening Water street, north of L street, to 106 feet, the width south of that point, it was said yesterday in the District building. The park commission wants to boulevard the whole of Water street as a connecting link between Potomac and Anacostia parks and the drives leading thereto. District officials believe that if any of it is boulevarded 1925, to 389,752 in that month this sufficient support in the chamber of deputies to make possible the balancing of the French budget. Thus he has made good his promise to have this delicate and complicated question settled before the Easter Fecess.

After an all-night session, the chamber this morning voted sufficient new resources not only to clear away the budget deficit but provide for a small surplus. The government received a majority of 77, the vote being 236 to 159, with 190 deputies abstaining, as many of them had previously indicated.

The budget deficit amounted to 2,450,000,000 francs ($85,750,000,000). The tax on business turnover will amount to 1,200,000,000 francs; that on alcohol 225,000,000,000 and the individual poll tax 570,000,000.

The only group to show a decrease during the year was the Friends, composed of four bodies which reported a loss of 545 members or communicants. They were the thirteenth group in the list, having a total at the end of the year of 115,528.

Swiss Mountain Moves; Vast Plateau May Fall Bellinzona, Switzerland, April

(By A. P.) .- Careful observa tions kept by the Swiss topographical bureau since 1888 shows that the Motto d'Arbino. a mountain 5,550 feet high, near Bellinzona, in the Canton of Tessin, is moving. Reports show that the great plateau that forms the summit, covering an area of nearly 100,000 square feet, has become dangerously undermined.

Nearly 40 years ago it was found that the summit was shifting horizontally at the rate of nearly an inch a year, a move ment that incresed until some months ago the rate had in creased to four inches a year.

The mountain sank at an average of nearly 132 inches a year during the first 14 years of observation, and there has been a subsidence of more than six inches during the last 12 months. Observers say when the underlying mass of rocks gives way the whole of the great plateau will crash into the valley.

"NO CAUSE OF ACTION."

The testimony of Tariff Commissioner Dennis before the Senate investigating committee appears to establish a verdict of "no cause of action" in the case of Senator Norris vs. President Coolidge, touching the recess appointment of Commissioner Lewis. According to Commissioner Dennis, the charge of undue influence by the President seems to fall. Mr. Dennis

In reality, Mr. Lewis received the re-appointment for a brief time so that I might have time to wind up my personal affairs and qualify for the Lewis post, made vacant in 1924. Secretary of Commerce Hoover recommended me to the President. I was much surprised at the information that the President had given Mr. Lewis an ad interim appointment for some sinister motives-for the purpose o dangling something over his head for his

A FARM "SURPLUS."

Thus far in the discussion of the farm relief problem the existence of a "surplus" appears to be the vital point. How to dispose of the "surplus" and keep it off the domestic markets to prevent depression in price, seems to occupy the attention of the farmer's economic physicians.

Now comes a Senator with a new bill, say

The Dickinson bill proposes to deal with the so-called "surplus" of any agricultural commodity. This bill, in effect, proposes to deal with any "unneeded" part of such commodity. It is seldom that we have a real surplus in any commodity. The dis-orderly way in which farm products are marketed frequently gives rise to the im-pression that a surplus exists, when in fact does not exist.

The Senator adds: It is doubtful if we have ever had a surplus of farm products. It is a fact that all farm products are consumed sooner or later. The so-called "surplus crops" are usually nothing more nor less than that part of the production of any year which must be held in check until the demand therefor becomes immediate and such a demand develops for it as to result in the offer of a reasonable price.

This is an angle of the problem that has not there be a "surplus" of farm products and steadily rising prices to the consumer? Would there be a surplus if all farm commodities were properly and economically distributed and marketed to the consumers? Is not the real trouble a lack of orderly and economical dis-

If marketing of farm products can be conducted through cooperative associations and the cost of distribution reduced, will not the farmers receive more and the consumer pay less and the "surplus" largely disappear?

The very word "surplus" as applied to farm products and food indicates that something is wrong with the marketing machinery.

One of the signs of spring is less profanity when the alarm clock goes off.

ELECTING THE COUNCIL.

The second annual election of the citizens advisory council is to be held tomorrow night. Members are to be chosen by the 90-odd dele gates to the Federation of Citizens Associations. Interest in the contest this year seems to be much more general than it was last year, and several of the candidates have been making an intensive canvass for election. The most gratifying feature of the campaign is that the aspirants for the council are not basing their candidacy upon personal popularity, but in nearly every instance are relying upon their pledges to serve the people of the District. Sectionalism appears to have been banished, and the good of the District as a whole seems to be the aim of all the candidates The first year's work of the advisory council has impressed Congress with the value and importance of such an organization. Both houses have recognized the council as an exceedingly useful institution in voicing the views of the people of the District. It can and doubtless will become a body upon which Congress will rely in framing legislation affecting Washington. Without representation in Congress the taxpayers and the general public have no other way of making known their views and expressing their desires. It is highly important, erefore, that the council should be comprised of men of ability and experience in District to influence the council in any manner. It should be a representative body in every The members of the Federation of next year. ns Associations, in choosing the members of the council, are charged with a respon- whether it is true that the recent strike cost

In the present Congress there are two Republican senators. Frederick M. Sackett, having been chosen in 1924 to succeed Mr. Stanley.

Democratic prophets have included Kentucky among the States now represented by a Republican as almost sure to go Democratic in November, and ordinarily their confidence might be justified. But Senator Ernst in his first term has made an enviable reputation in the Senate. He has occupied important chairmanships and is in a position of responsibility and leadership. He has been a regular of regulars, always supporting the administration. At the same time he has won the respect of his Democratic colleagues by his unswerving opposition to radicalism and insurgency. Mr. Ernst is chairman of the Senate committee which investigated the Brookhart-Steck election contest in Iowa, and in recommending the seating of Mr. Steck, a Democrat, the Kentucky senator has undoubtedly made many friends among the Democrats of his own State, not merely because he voted for a Democrat, but because he opposed insurgency

It was not surprising, therefore, that Senator Ernst should tell the people of his State that, in his opinion, "the day is not far distant when you will find the Republicans and Democrats standing shoulder to shoulder against certain radical elements in both parties." The better element of both parties is against radicalism. It is so in Kentucky. Hence Senator Ernst, it is believed by leading Republicans. stands a better chance of reelection than any other Republican who hails from a normally

A SURVEY OF ALIENS.

The commissioner general of immigration is making a survey of aliens in the 35 immigration districts. The purpose is to speed up the deportation of undesirables, especially criminals. Thousands of immigrants have been smuggled into the country lately.

Recently more than 500 warrants for deportation of immigrants were issued in one week. Nearly all were for persons smuggled in within the last few years. The law specifies fifteen classes of persons who may be deported, irrespective of the time of entry.

There should be a system of registration of The law-abiding element would be protected by this system, and the criminal element exposed.

If all the railroads were merged into one system, the second greatest thing would be to have an annual pass.

IMPORTING FLIES.

Just as the country is preparing to launch the annual "swatting" campaign against the house fly comes a warning from the Smithsonian Institution that "not all kinds of flies deserve to be swatted." The Smithsonian has just dispatched Dr. J. M. Aldrich, one of its most eminent entomologists, to Guatemala to familiarize himself with the innocuous flies which have their habitat in that Central American republic. It appears from the evidence presented by the Smithsonian that the Guatemalan fly is a particularly valuable insect, in that he has the habit of "parasitizing other insects," particularly grasshoppers, and is, therefore, a desirable immigrant if he can be inbeen given sufficient attention thus far. Can duced to become acclimatized in the temperate zone. Not only is this Guatemalan fly the inveterate enemy of the molasses-spitting grasshopper, he has also lethal designs upon beetles caterpillars and other creatures which do so much damage to crops.

When Dr. Aldrich fills up his specimen cases he will proceed to England to compare notes 'hands-across-the-sea'' defensive conference will serve still further to strengthen the ties which bind us to the mother country, the straining of which will be sesquicentennially celebrated in Philadelphia during the coming summer.

No doubt the scientists will take care not to make the mistake of importing innocent-appearing flies which later develop predatory proclivities. Remember the English sparrow!

If a man reaches his thirtieth year without knowing everything, he is ready to begin learning something.

LOOKING AHEAD.

Perhaps it is the reluctance of winter to depart that causes some members of Congress to get busy at this belated season and urge legis lation that will protect the public against the anthracite coal monopoly. At any rate there appears to be considerable activity on the part New York members. Representatives Jacobstein and Fish, of that State, have been endeavoring to impress upon the members of the House the importance of enacting a law that will give the Federal government power to deal with coal strikes. Mr. Jacobstein would declare the coal industry a public utility and would have Congress create a coal bureau authorized to license every mine, gather facts, and make a report to the public at frequent intervals regarding profits and prices. He would also authorize the President in the case of an emergency to take over and operate the mines. The New York representative declares that the people will and should hold Congress responsible if legislation is not enacted at this session. He asserts that the public has always borne the cost of strikes in the anthracite industry, and says that despite the fact that the strike was settled without an increase of wages the operators refused to make the customary spring reduction of 50 cents a ton. He warns of a possible strike in the soft coal industry

In similar vein Mr. Fish wants to know consumers $75,000,000 through increase of prices; whether the operators since the settlement have been profiteering at the rate of $250,000 a day, and whether the operators are under any heavier expense.

New York suffered greatly from the effects of the coal strike. With little anthracite obtainable, the public was forced to burn soft coal, and in many instances was obliged to pay as much as $20 a ton for it. Some physicians claim that the large increase in pneumonia and influenza was due to the dust-laden air caused by the heavy smoke from soft coal. Nobody wants to go through another winter under similar conditions. The attitude of the anthracite operators seems to indicate that they intend to boost the price for fuel with the approach of the cold months. The public may have been the principal beneficiary in the recent quarrel between the operators and the miners, but just the same it has to be admitted that most people prefer hard coal to Under present conditions, and with soft. prices 'remaining as they are, many persons will postpone the purchase of next winter's

STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Members of the Senate subcommittee on District appropriations are to make a survey today of the streets of Washington. The purpose is to find out whether there should not be an increase in the appropriations for street improvement and repairs. Property owners and others will be highly pleased to learn that the sena tors are to inspect the streets of the city. A great deal of work is needed to make the thoroughfares of Washington fit for traffic. For several years the streets have been a target for jokesters to shoot at. Motorists from other parts of the country need not be told when they hit the District line. They know from the bumps.

The execrable condition of the streets is not confined to any particular section, although some localities are in far worse shape than others. This is especially true of Southeast Washington, where property values have suffered greatly by reason of poor streets. In making their survey the senators should take in the whole of Washington. They will not, of course, favor any section over another.

A scientist says the American nose is becoming flatter. What we need, apparently, is softer windshields.

A PLACE FOR BANDITS.

Since the days of the Dreyfus trial little has been said about the Ile du Diable, the French penal colony off the coast of South America. Cable advices from Paris now bring the news that 340 offenders against French laws have been packed off to the Island of the Devil, and that an equal number will follow.

The United States has never indulged in the luxury of a penal colony, although there was a time, in colonial days, when hundreds of emigrants were sent to Virginia and the Carolinas as punishment for misdemeanors, and even because they were unable to pay their debts. Many of these "redemptioners" became the progenitors of those hardy mountaineers who subsequently aided materially in forming the Volunteer State of Tennessee.

In view of the difficulty which this country is experiencing in the matter of finding prison space for its surplus population of bandits burglars and bootleggers, it may dawn on the statesmen of France, if any, that part of the debt to Uncle Sam might be paid through an arrangement for the care of the American bandit surplus on the Isle of the Devil on a per capita rental basis. Such a plan, besides aiding France in the settlement of her debt to the United States, should aid in developing the Island of the Devil, as the descendants of the bandits and bootleggers would no doubt inherit their ancestors' enterprise, which would have to exert itself in useful activities.

dairy herds not tested for tubercular infection. the battle began bein spite of the disturbances, no "impure" milk entered Chicago, or was sold, and enforcement of the health department's flat had been accomplished without limitation of the city's milk supply or an increase in prices.

The danger of further disturbances tonight and tomorrow morning by opponents of the "pure milk rule" was deemed serious.

Inspectors for the health department anticipated no shortage, declaring that Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois dairymen whose milk compiles with the new standards will more than make up any deficit in Chicago's lacteal supply.

Gen Flores, Mexican Statesman, Is Dead

Nogales, Ariz., April 1 (By A. P.).—Gen. Angel Flores, Mexican statesman, military leader and onetime aspirant for the presidency of the southern republic, is dead, according to advices received here last night from Culiacan, Sinaloa, Mexico. Stricken with pneumonia several weeks ago, the former mili-tary governor of West Mexico, suf-fered a relapse and succumbed after physicians had pronounced him out of danger. Flores had played a prominent part in Mexican national affairs since he opposed President Calles for election in 1924 as the nominee of the reformed revolutionary party. He advocated the liberalization of Mexican laws so as to attract foreign capital in the development of the country's natural resources.

Cornuche, Deauville "King," Dead at 58

Paris, April 1 (By A. P.).— Eugene Cornuche, proprietor of the resorts of Deauville and Cannes, known as the "King of Deauville," died today, aged 58.

died today, aged 58.

M. Cornuche began as a waiter in Maxim's and ten years later he owned that famous cafe. Gradually he entered the seaside resort business, conceived the idea of the modern Deauville and succeeded in making it the leading gambling center in the world outside of Monte Carlo. It was Cornuche's boast that he had arrived in Paris with 10 cents and that he was worth $10,000,000. He was granted the cross of the legion of honor on January 15 last.

Death was caused by cancer of the stomach.

The Barbarian Lover By Margaret Pedler

THE BARBARIAN LOVER.

The Barbarian LOVER.

The Story Thus Far:

Patricia Luttrell, daughter of a resident British Commissioner in India, meets Kerry Lorimer, her father's "man of mystery" and a few days later he saves her from the charge of a wounded, maddened tiger. Her father killed on the polo field, Lorimer escorts Fat to England, to make her home with her god father, the Egri of Marchdale. She meets the cert, his sister and his nephew and heir, Kit Wynsborough, and learns that Kerry is also a buphew, but in disgrace because of a supposed theft. She finds that kit is in love with the rector's daughter but afraid to tell his uncle. She later meets Kerry "craravanning" nearby and he forces her to dismount from her horse. She admits her love for him but he says he cannot marry because of the blight on his name. He catches her as a bolt of lightning stuns her. On her return an autu frightens her horse and Pat is taken to the home of Peggy Bethune, a rich widow, whose brother, Mark Strown and Pat is taken to the home of Peggy Bethune, a rich widow, whose brother, Mark Strown, owns the auto which caused the accident. Strown falls in love with fall more to tween kit and the rector's daughter and forbids kit to marry a "village girl." Kit prepares to leave. CHAPTER XXVIII (Cont.).

How did I know?" He gave a short, bitter laugh terness she had ever heard escape him. "Ah, my dear, how does one know when the sun shines or the rain falls? For days I had been thinking of you as being as being as being as dearly and appears a supply and appears to the rain falls? lonely and unhappy as I am myself, wishing only that I could have saved you from such suffering. Then, we heard, Peggy and I, that Lorimer had come back and that you were engaged to him. I wondered if he were the man you loved, or whether you had promised your-self to him, perhaps long ago, be-fore you met that other * * And then, just now, I saw you coming toward us, and I knew. And I'm glad, dear, of your happiness. That makes all the difference in the world—to know that you're happy." He took her hands in his and, stooping, laid his lips for a moment against them. "God keep you so, Pat"

He released her gently, and they walked on side by side. Her heart was heavy within her. Why must her happiness be bought at the cost of so much pain to some one else or so much pain to some one case. Was there always a price to be paid for happiness? It seemed to ber as though, throughout her life, sweet and bitter were forever destined to be inextricably mingled

She felt thankful when at 15 Loars length she and Mark reached the house and joined the others in the great hall. WIVES OF TOMORROW By FRANCES M'DONALD-

Clever and Energetic.

DEAR MISS McDONALD: Your for that lying in the fact that the column has helped me and the good advice you gave in the last two days to others has made me decide to ask your advice for myself. I am asking you because I need some one not influenced by knowledge of this affair. His relatives beg me to "carry on." My friends say "they wouldn't stand for it." Here is my story briefly:

He decided to go into business for himself, so I went to night school to learn bookkeeping and have since done all the clerical work, and cared for the children and home besides. Every one has trials, but I have an even disposition and knew it "takes" two to make a quarrel, so have done my best in "sickness and health." I realized business must come first if it is to succeed and I understood, too, his responsibilities to his famility, his relations, his lodges, his mination. It is, however, hardly too, his responsibilities to his family, his relations, his lodges, his neighbors and community in general. All went well. Then came prosperity and then two years ago he met a woman years older than he. She is a grandmother, but one of these all made up, so that the he. She is a grandmother, but one of these all made up, so that she really appears young. As she was once a nurse she knows how to flatter a man and make himself conceited. So she has changed him from a kind, loving husband and father to a nervous, irritable man who ill treats his children, files into a temper without provocation and nothing we do suits him. He claims as I have a car and money to spend, he has the right to load his own life. Safe Soap For your face . . . That's the important thing to women

This simple rule in skin care is bringing the allure of natural skin beauty to thousands

To endanger a good complexion with unproved soaps is a folly. The kind of soap to use on your face is a beauty soap. A soap made for one purpose only—to safeguard your complexion.

Thousands have learned how true that is. For Youth is thus preserved. Complexions are treated kindly; natural loveliness retained. natural loveliness retained.

Palmolive Soap is made by experts in beauty; of famous beauty oils in secret blend; a soap made to be used freely, lavishly on the skin.

New York, April 1 (By the Associated Press).—Stock prices made further recoveries in today's curb market. Heavy short covering imparted a strong tone to the opening but when the immediate requirements of the bear traders had been met, the market turned dull. Total sales of about 415,000 shares were more than 150,000 below those of yesterday.

Coal shares were the outstanding strong spots in the industrial list. Glen Alden soared 7½ points to 154 and Lehigh Valley Coal certificates closed 1½ higher at 40. Banking shares turned heavy on selling, presumably inspired by Senator La Follette's attack on recent mergers. Motors moved upward under the leadership of Stutz, which showed a net gain of more than 2 points. A better demand also was neight for the electrical refrigers to the high grade investom temes featured the oil group, sharp gains being recorded by a number of the high priced shares. Vacuum, Prairie and Guif led the advance in the more popular issues. Increased activity in Reiter Foster followed the report that the company was completing the deepest well ever drilled in Oklahoma.

Public utilities received much better buying support on the publication of reassuring earnings statements by some of the large operating and holding companies. American Gas & Electric lumped over 5 points to 74 and American Power & Light, Southeastern Power & Light, and United Light & Power A were among the many issues to close a point or more higher.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, April 1 (By the Associated Press).—Eastern selling which developed after various unofficial crop estimates were issued, gave the wheat market today a decided downward trend. The estimates were interpreted as suggesting a probable yield of 565,000,000 bushels of winter wheat in the United States this season, compared with 398,000,000 bushels lat. Verr.

FIFTY-SEVEN years ago the foundation of the foundation of the modern First Mortgage business in Washington was laid when the office of the direct predecessors of Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co. was opened on Seventh Street Northwest.

The founders of the business pledged themselves to conduct a business which would not only serve as an aid in the upbuilding of the city, but which also would afford absolute protection for the funds of those investing in the first mortgages themselves.

Today-57 years later-we feel that we may point with pride to a pledge fulfilled. We feel we have kept faith with our founders and also with the public of Washington, by keeping our first mortgage investments safe. day, we ask you to share with us the pride of the past and anticipation of the future which is embodied in our

MOTOR SHARES ERRATIC

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, April 1.—The stock market settled down to something approaching normalcy today. Short covering and speculative buying caused a further recovery in prices practically all along the line, the practically all along the line, the list showing gains ranging from 1 to 7 points at the close. Trading continued active, but was orderly throughout the session and the turnover was but little more than 1,880,000 shares.

1,880,000 shares.

The recovery was helped along by buying "for a turn" by professional traders. The bears sought to keep their wavering followers in line by directing several attacks against issues which they suspected were still in a vulnerable position. were still in a vulnerable position, but these flurries of selling failed to make much of an impression on e market. Plainly the forced liquidation of weak accounts had run its course, for the time being, at least, with the result that offerings were absorbed readily. Easier money and the fact that for the first time in many days no loans were called, favored the buyer rather than the seller of stocks. seller of stocks.

In the final moments of the session, profit taking caused a rather general recession from the highest levels of the day and the close was somewhat irregular, but in nearly all cases the major portion of the improvement was retained.

Chiefly the market was in the industrial stocks, for it was in them that recent speculative operations had been on the largest scale. The rally was led by the pivotal stocks, so-called, or those whose movement as a whole governed the trend. United States Steel common was a bulwark of strength, touching 123, but closing nearly a point under that quotation, although 1 1/8 net

General Electric rebounded sharply after early hesitation, but falled to hold in the late dealings, dipping 6 points from the day's high but coming back in the closing moments to finish but 1 ¼ net lower. Baldwin, Worthington Pump, Postum, Famous Players, American Smelt-ing & Refining, Sears Roebuck and such stocks followed along with good recoveries. Allied Chemical reacted sharply after early strength. Oils were in demand and held up well, Pan-American leading with 5 1/4 point gain. Atlantic Refining closed 3 1/4 net higher and others improved correspondingly. A speculative battle was waged over the motor stocks and they fluctuated erratically. In the end General Motors and Hudson rallied strongly, carrying the others with them, but net gains were small. Sentiment on motors was helped by trade advices of an encouraging

What particularly interested Wall street was the statement, ascribed to one large producing interest, that farmers in particular were demon-stating greater car buying power than last year.

Rails were dull, but followed the trend of the industrials. Chesa-peake & Ohio was an exception, selling ex-dividend at $6 a share. It was heavy throughout the day and closed 2 points off, as did L. & N. Lackawanna and Delaware & Hudson were strong spots.

Call money was easier. Renewals were arranged at 5 per cent, and in the afternoon money was loaning at 4 per cent. Time money also was easier, being quoted at 4½ per cent for 60 days and 4½ to 5% per cent for six months. Return of easier money indicated that the recent strain was largely due to temporary

While he was still in high school Hussey competed in only the century. His coach wisely enough insisted that too much competition might prove much competition might prove harmful to a youth his age and limited his activities not only in permitting him to compete in only one event, but not too often in that.

lege, who has Hussey's athletic future in hand now, is of the opinion that his sprinter is ready for more work. He is going to break him in the furlong during the coming outdoor season in order to see how the youngster can carry over the longer distance.

The chances are that Hussey will develop into as great sensation over the 220-yard route as he has been at 100 yards. The only drawback to his running has been inability to get under way with great speed. He is not a fast man over the first 50 yards, but picks up speed in the last half of the race.

I N the nationals at San Francisco he was beaten off the cisco he was beaten off the mark by De Hart Hubbard, one of the fastest men on the get-a-way, but in the final 40 yards Hussey flashed a burst of speed that carried him to the tape a winner by inches. It has been the same way in most of the races that he has run up to the present time.

This ability to gather and hold speed should serve Hussey in good stead in the longer sprint. The requirements for sprint. The requirements for the two distances are much the same. Hussey already has demonstrated that he has a high turn of speed. If he can hold it for the furlong, he may wear the double crown and endanger the record in the longer event.

Nationals Wend Way North; ппп MAY SHUN TAMPA IN '27 ппп Meet Columbus Team Today

BY FRANK H. YOUNG. ACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 1. The Nationals are now heading homeward via the longest route I homeward via the longest route President Griffith could think of, off-hand. Eight more games will be payed, beginning with tomorrow's battle at Quitman, Ga., and then Washington fans will be given a look at their baseball entry in the-1926 Ban Johnson race. Needless to say, all of the players are glad the training grind is about over and that it won't be long be-fore they will be out there doing their stuff in games that mean something. In these exhibition things, all seem to feel that it is a case of "love's labor lost."

ANAGER HARRIS is well satisfied with the progress made in Tampa. Ruel, Peck and one or two others are not quite at the top of their form, but they undoubtedly will be ready by the time the Nats reach the Capital City.

In bidding adieu to Tampa this morning it seems to be the general opinion, among those who the question with the club presiclaim to know, that the Harrismen dent. really were saving farewell, for all signs point to a change in camp next

DELANEY-BERLENBACH MATCHED FOR BOUT JUNE 10

Leased by Rickard

Fight Between Champ and Tunney Now Seems Near.

Boyle's Thirty Acres Also to Resume Operations.

N EW YORK, April 1 (By A. P.).

Tex Rickard drew back the curtain from a good share of his prospective 1926 heavyweight drama today. He disclosed an elaborate program bearing all the earmarks of starring a heavyweight championship tilt between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney on August 12, or September 3.

The promoter revealed that he had closed negotiations for a 1926 lease on the Yankee Stadium which he plans to open with a return lease on the Yankee Stadium which he plans to open with a return light-heavyweight title match between Paul Berlenbach and Jack Delaney on or about June 10. He said he also would operate his Jersey City arena, "Boyle's Thirty Acres," beginning about May 18.

Both big arenas, Rickard said, would be ready for at least one big shot. While he refused to say as TUNNEY already is under contract to Rickard for this season, and it is understood the promoter has an agreement with Dempsey which will materialize into a formal affair after August 30, when the champion's contract with his erstwhile manager, Jack Kearns, expires.

Rickard pointed out that with Boyle's Thirty Acres at his disposal he will be able to shift a Tunney Dempsey match to Jersey if pres

Dempsey match to Jersey if present objection to holding it here by the New York State athletic commission are not removed.

These objections hinge about the commission's insistence that Harry Wills, negro challenger, be given first call on a title match. They may be removed, however, it was indicated, by the commission deciding that Wills already has violated the rules by entering into his agreement with Dempsey and Floyd Fitzsimmons, Michigan City, Ind., promoter, at a time when Dempsey was on the State's ineligible list. Wills, however, in Rickard's opinion, is not yet out of the heavy-weight picture altogether, although the negro's chances of meeting Dempsey have diminished. If a Dempsey match is found impossible otherwise, Rickard indicated he would be willing to stage an elimination test between Wills and Tunney, the winner to face the champion.

Rickard expects to leave on an-Rickard expects to leave on another "secret mission" to Chicago next week, but has promised another "big announcement" before departing. His interviewers tonight interpreted this as meaning he may announce definitely he has clinched the Dempsey-Tunney match. His trip to Chicago is believed to be concerned with establishing a franchise for the National Hockey league there.

HREE or four "big shows" are planned by Rickard for the Yankee stadium. for the Yankee stadium. In addition to the return Berlenbach-Delaney bout and the prospective Tunney - Dempsey match, he is understood to have Young Stribling, Georgia light-keavyweight, in mind as a possible opponent for the winner of the light-heavyweight encounter.

TWO PANTS SUITS AND TOPCOATS FOR MEN AND YOUNG MEN

A NOTHER good card is offered at Bowie for today, with the fifth race the natural feature. a seven furlong affair. Considering the track conditions, the choice falls on Mrs. A. Schwenke's EVER-GLADE, which will mark his first GLADE, which will mark his first sppearance since the Miami meeting, and he won his last race at six furlongs, showing that he preferred a longer route, however. He gets another furlong in this race. GOLD-EN BILLOWS, a horse with some note in Maryland, will make his first appearance since the Laurel meeting, and will probably be the favorite. It appears that his preparedness is uncertain, and he would be more likely to win if the distance was more than a mile. But he is dangerous. LOMBARDO, a 3-year-old, is a higher class horse than either, and could hardly be worse than third. He will have a following for this race, but EVER-GLADE is known to be fit, and he will do to tie to.

vill do to tle to. The first race is for 2-year-olds. It is no effort to decide that the Mack-Bean entry of CAPTAIN JACK and WANDERING TIMES—both Mami winners, should be preferred in this field. PARADE and DEXTER, the Parr-Carter pair are probably contenders. They have never ably contenders. They have never started, but clockers have tabbed them. R. T. Wilson and W. J. Salmon have POST HORN and LONG VIEW as their entry, and POST HORN beat CAPTAIN JACK in the winter.

These two might be more dangerous than they are given credit for being, especially if they can run on a heavy track.

The second race is for maiden 3-year-olds. Clockers like the J. S. Cosden colt. SENATE, and while he never showed much in his two starts last year, this is the cheapest starts last year, this is the cheapest field he ever started in, and if he should win, he would be a real price. SWEPT is picked for second, and she showed some real speed at New Orleans. DIGNIFY is a Samuel Ross filly that will bear watch ing, and should be in the money. The old Bowie favorite, SE. SAND, is the choice in the third race. Conditions suit him, though he was ingloriously defeated in hi farewell autumn race at Bowie. Hi is a better horse in the spring of the year and has had a long race. Hi will have JIMMY TRINZ to bea This horse was in the money hi last five starts at New Orleans, in good fields. COMPSTON TO PLAY AT WASHINGTON LINKS SUNDAY

English Star in the In Exhibition Press Box Match

He and Thompson to Meet Mackenzie and McLeod.

Rock Creek Course to Be Formally Opened Today.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST RCHIE COMPSTON, the Brit-A ish golfing star, will play in Washington next Sunday. He is now at Pinehurst, competing in the North and South open, and when it was learned that he would come through Washington on his way North efforts were at once made by Fred D. Paxton, chairman of the golf committee of the Wash-ington Golf and Country club, to obtain his appearance here. A telegram received here from him yes terday announced his acceptance of the invitation.

The golfing season will, there-fore, open on Sunday with a four-pall exhibition match on the course of the Washington club, with Comp-ston paired with Dave Thompson, the club professional, against Rol-and R. Mackenzie, holder of many District titles and a member of the Walker cup international golf team.

whose partner will be John Farrell Thirty-six holes will be played, the first round starting at 10 o'clock in the morning and the seco'clock in the morning and the second round scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Competition will be on a best-ball basis, but the individual scores of each contestant will be kept.

Coming at the opening of the season, when golfing interest is beginning to require this peach will.

season, when goining interest is beginning to revive, this match will attract a large gallery. There will be a natural curiosity to see Compston, who has been playing fine golf since his arrival in this country and who is expected to win the British open this year.

H E is a giant in stature, being 6 feet and 3 inches tall, with a powerful frame and ability to drive an enormous distance. His technique may not be of the highest standard, but he secures results, and he fights with tremendous courage.

The other three players are well known here, as Farrell has played on the Washington, Congressional and Columbla courses. The Washington club members are expecting Thompson to be of real assistance to the Britisher, for he knows every blade of grass on the course and scores in low figures on all his rounds.

A special match of 10 games between the Collegiates, winners of the Prince Georges county leagues and a picked five from the War Department circuit will get underway Saturday night when the first five-game block is rolled on the Collegiates' drives in Hyattsville.

The reconstructed Rock Creek course will be opened this morning with a four-ball match, in which Senator Wesley A. Jones, of Washington, and Representative Scott, of Oregon, will be paired against Edwin A. Halsey, of the office of the sergeant at arms of the Senate, and James D. Preston, superintendent of the Senate press gallery. As ent of the Senate press gallery. As the quartet will tee off at 6 o'clock this morning, they are not likely to be annoyed by a large gallery.

Lacrosse has developed in much the same way. Maryland was the pioneer in the sport in this part of the country. It was the southermost representative of the game, whose foundations were laid by the Indians. The Terrapins are being joined by other colleges in this section now, and it may not be long before the sport will be offered regularly and extensively to Washington sport followers.

Those enthusiasts who are interested in the development of sport will have an opportunity tomorrow to judge for themselves the possibilities of lacrosse. The combined Oxford-Cambridge team will meet Maryland at Central stadium. It will be the first game in which the visitors, picked from the best players of the two great English universities, will take part in the United States.

ACROSSE has much to recommend it to the average spectator. It is fast and open, without any slow moments. It is no gentle pastime either. Players wear park and parking parkin pastime either. Players wear headguards even more pro-tective than those used in football, and the sport may, if roughly played, be as satisfy-ing to those who thirst for punishment as a concommitant to any form of competition.

The presence of some of the major league teams will increase the population of the towns on the barnstorm circuit 100 per cent.

By now you ought to be able to judge to the penny just how good a handicapper of the race horses you would make.

Nats and Athletics Relying пип ACCORDING TO PEGLER ППП On Each Other's Infirmities

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

West York, April 1.—If competition is the life of trade, as alleged by all chambers of commerce, the stockholders of the American league ball teams stand a chance of becoming roundshouldered, lugging their profits to the bank this year. As a general thing, there are two ball teams in an eight club league which are regarded as the contenders for the pennant, two others which are deemed to have an outside chance and four others which are bound nowhere in no particular hurry.

The general thing applies to the National league just now, inasmuch as the Pirates and the Giants are recognized as rivals for what Joe Humpreys, the bawling interlocutor of the new Garden, would describe as titular title honors and no other ball team in the league is conceded to have any direct interest in the matter.

The Cardinals and the Reds are By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

The Cardinals and the Reds are suspected of being the two others each with an outside chance and the four other ball teams seem to be just four other ball teams, if that. This crack may cause some irrita-tion in the port of Boston, the operating base of the Braves, but that will be all right because this piece isn't a piece about the National league any way.

THIS is a piece about the American league, in which three ball teams have fairly well justified aspirations in the direction of the world series and three others will woo the outside chance, leaving just two clubs, which may as well be named right now as the Indians and Red Sox, which are bound nowhere at a leisurely gait.

It is a peculiar thing about the American league this spring that the two teams that fought for the pennant last September, Washing-ton and the Athletics, are depend-ing on each other's infirmities almost as much as they depend on their respective strength.

The Nationals, for instance, have ben strong enough in the training camp, but the Athletics know that Walter Johnson, even if he doesn't entirely fall apart this year, is due to have an inferior season soon, and they trust that he will have it without delay. Stanley Coveleskie also was somewhat rickety in the last stages of 1925, and, with no personal ill-will for Stanley Coveleskie, the Athletics would be

THE Nationals, on their part, allege that the Athletics have no nerve and several of the Washington players have said that they wish they had to play only the Athletics all season long. Gallaudet Defeats anning, scoring Reneau, sent Briarley Hall to defeat at the hands of Gallaudet's nine, on the former's field, yesterday, 5 to 4. William Melhorn, Chicago professional, who was in second position at the close of the first round, faltered over the second 18. He re-

Roberts, making his debut for the Kendall Greeners, went the full Toute, allowing a trio of hits and strikking out 12 batters. Clark, Briarley's moundsman, put up a greditable performance in keeping his seven hits allowed scattered over the second 18. He required a 40 to come in on the last 9, and the strong wind seemed to worry him. Scores of the leaders. Bobby Cruickshank, New York, 71, 72—147; Joseph Gruickshank, New York, 73, 74—147; Thomas Nordone, Mount Vergan, X V. Sangust Nordone, Moun and fanning seven of the Florida avenue collegians. Elgin's error placed Reneau on e hot corner and his score on right's single knotted the count the eighth frame for Gallaudet. llaudet. AB H O A Briarley H. AB H O A head.ss. 5 2 1 3 Figin.3b. ... 4 0 2 0 ..34 3 27

Blunder on The Roll Call, and from then on Care Free moved up gradually.

Faenza was the real surprise winner of the day, defeating Blue Hill, which was heavily backed, and paying $22.30. The last race went to an old Bowie favorite, Rupee, which has a pecultar liking for this track.

The races were delayed, due to the large crowd, and the inaugural handleap field caused further delay, being at the brier several minute. The nuture machines could not handle the business, and the long lines at the pay-off window would not be cleared before the start of the succeeding race. The track was drying out rapidly, but not enough to make the running much more favorable today.

SENATORS WIN FINAL.

The Boys' club Senators won if final game of the season last ht. defeating the Calvary Reds. 57, after the Reds had led at f. time by 32-24. Maxwell and yfdson were the stars.

Rally in Foreign Loans Stimu lates All Except U.S. Government Issues.

SKELLY 61/2S UP 6 POINTS

New York, April 1 (By the Asso ciated Press) .- An impressive rall took place in the bond market to day in response to a series of favor able developments which included a return of easier money conditions and indications that the passage of the French government's finance bills by the chamber of deputies would finally balance that nation's budget.

Although bond trading yesterday failed to share in the stock market's recovery, it quickly swung into line with the move toward readjustment today and displayed the strongest tone in several weeks.

The unexpected turn for the better in the French situation helped is allow recent for the details.

ter in the French situation helped to allay recent fears regarding the entire European outlook, attracting substantial buying orders to this list at the opening. French government, railroad and municipal obligations rebounded 1 to 2 points and were followed by Belgian, Czechoslovakian, Polish, Serbian, Hungarian and German issues, most of which advanced a point or more.

most of which advanced a point or more.

The improvement in sentiment quickly made itself felt in the domestic list, where buying of railroad, public utility and industrial liens was resumed. An extreme gain of 6 points was registered by Skelly Oil 6½s and advances of 1 to 2½ points included Chesapeake & Ohio convertible 5s, Erie convertible 4s A and D, International Great Northern adjustment 6s, Illinois Steel 4½s, Consolidafor all order to the state of the state of the state of the local traction issues. Fractional gains were generously scattered throughout the entire list. St. Paul and New Haven issues were about the only ones to move counter to the general upward trend.

Trading in United States government obligations was dull in con-trast to the revival of activity else-where.

Artist Asks $250,000 For Alleged Libel

J. Harry Covington, former chief justice of the District of Columbia Supreme court, and his law partners, Edward B. Burling and George Rublee, and their client, Mrs. Geneva Dunham, 1222 Sixteenth street northwest, were sued jointly yesterday in circuit court for $250,000 damages for alleged libel by W. Clark Noble, sculptor and painter, of 1528 Twenty-second street northwest.

and painter, of 1528 Twenty-second street northwest.

Mr. Noble, on December 17 last, sued Mrs. Dunham to recover $1,900 which he said was due for his work in making a portrait bust of her. The former chief justice and his associates filed a plea in this case, part of which was later stricken out. The plaintiff says that the portion of Mrs. Dunham's plea which was stricken out contained scandalous and impertinent matter and was libelous. The alleged scandalous and impertinent matter has damaged him socially and professionally, the plaintiff states.

Relief association has been called by Cleveland Perkins, chairman, to be held this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the social service house. Plans are to be considered for an eleventh-hour appeal to the people of the city to come to the aid of this family welfare work, the year's budget for which is still lacking $22,000 of the requirements for the remainder of the current year.

Up to last evening the committee had received 3,446 membership contributions toward the goal of 10,000 givers' and the total cash received was $37,836. Among yesterday's contributions was a check from President Coolidge, which was received by Cuno H. Rudolph, as president of the Associated Charities.

Auto Victim's Death

The death of Mrs. Catherine E. Pennington, who was killed by an automobile late Wednesday in Lee Hights, Va., was an "unavoidable accident," a coroner's jury decided yesterday at an inquest in the Arlington county courthouse. Mrs. Pennington, who was 40 years old, lived in Livingston Heights.

Miss Elizabeth Hirons, 611 Sheridan street northwest, driver of the automobile which struck Mrs. Pennington, broke into tears while she was testifying at the inquest. She said Mrs. Pennington had stepped into the road in front of her machine and she described how she swerved her machine in an attempt to escape hitting the woman. Miss Mildred Hirst, who was a passenger in Miss Hirons' machine, told substantially the same story.
